Dear Sachihiko Harashina:

As Chair of the 2013 Awards Committee of the International Association for Impact Assessment (IAIA), it is my great privilege to inform you on behalf of the Committee and the IAIA Board of Directors that you have been selected as the recipient of IAIA's 2013 Rose-Hulman Award. This award will be presented at IAIA's annual conference event in Calgary, Alberta, Canada (IAIA13 – Impact Assessment: The Next Generation; 11-17 May 2013).

The IAIA Rose-Hulman Award is awarded to long-term supporters and members of IAIA for major contributions to the field of impact assessment. The Committee selected you for this honor because of your sustained and significant contribution to environmental impact assessment regionally and internationally.

Throughout your career, you have been constant in your dedication to improving and promoting impact assessment through your work in environmental assessment and environmental planning, developing environmental guidelines for agencies and institutions and increasing public understanding of EIA in Japan. The Committee also recognizes your service to IAIA, including your contributions on the IAIA Board of Directors and your consistent participation in annual conferences. It is for these reasons that IAIA honors you with the 2013 Rose-Hulman Award.

I take this opportunity to give you my personal congratulations. I hope your schedule will allow you to participate fully in the meeting in Calgary, as a recipient of IAIA's premier award and as an avid delegate to the concurrent sessions and social events. The members of the Awards Committee will consider it an honor to congratulate you in person.

Sincerely,

Anne Norton Miller
